THE LIQUOR QUESTION.

mportant Decision of the Recorder in the Case of Patrick Boylan, Charged with Selling Liquor Without a License.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS. . As we stated yesterday, the case of Patrick Boylan, who was arraigned in the Special Sessions on Tuesday morning, for selling liquor since the first of May with-out license, came up before Recorder Smith at the General Sessions yesterday, during the forencon. The court was very much crowded, and considerable interest manifested to hear the decision. After disposing of some other unimportant business, the Recorder rendered the following judgment, which, it will be seen, was favorable to the cefendant:—

The defendant, Patrick Boylan, was arrested on the 7th of May, upon a charge of soliton in questions of the county of the county there are well founded doubts as to its construction, the party to be effected by it is entitled to the benefit of those doubts. Acting upon these principles, I have come to the following conclusion:—That the provisions of the act of April, 1855, so far as that act prescribes penalties, and the manner of their enforcement in the city and county of New York, operates as a repeal of all acts relating to the regulation of, and penalties for, the sale of liquor (except so far as regards the sale on Sunday,) that were in existence at the time of its passage, and operates as an absolute repeal of the asms, and that no penalty can be imposed for seiling liquor without license at the present time, as the fourth section of the act is isoperative until the 4th day of July next. The defendant must, therefore, be discharged. unded doubts as to its construction, the

Mr. J. D. Oliver was called to the chair. After a prayer from Rev. Mr. MATINON.

The Chaiman stated that the Carson League was the best friend the rumselers had, for the League had endeavored to make the traffic respectable and legal. There is a fatulty in all their movements, for if the traffic had been made legal the prohibitory law would perhaps never have been passed. There was an association between the rumsellers of the lowest kind and the owners of the large hotels to protect the liquor interest; but now the large hotels to protect the liquor interest; but now the large hotels to protect the layen would go forward, and endeavor to enforce the law, no matter how great the eppesition was. (Applause)

Rev. Mr. MATIBON was in favor of temperance and law, but he was not as yet ready to go to prison in behalf of the Lesgue. If he knew what the League was, it meant to esforce the laws now on the statute books. The rumsellers and given notice that they would not obey the law—that they would oppose, evade, do anything rather than comply with its requirements; and is behoved every good citizen to give the League his countenance and support. Lequor dealing is not like thieving, or selling galvanized watches, and must be met by associative efforts among the people to enforce the law. (Applause.) It is a hard thing to get people to inform against rumsellers, insomend as all of us are pecuniarily interested in the business; and then it is deemed odious to be an informer, and this suspicion attaches to all who join the League. There is a sympathy in the community for the liquor dealers, and many persons, thinking it no harm to sell liquor, naturally ask—alwhy combine to put these people down? Let them alone," And thus a spirit of indifference is manifested. The reverend gentleman here described the varying effects of liquor on aifference is manifested. The speaker agreed with the runnellers, that no distinction should be made between the rich and poor. He would treat them all alike, and make them obey the law. There is no sort of use in calling this law unconstitutional. Why, when Daniel Webster tried to defeat the Liquor law of Massachusetts he falled; and where could there be an advocate found like him? (Applause) Col. Snow was introduced, and made a highly poetical and patriotic speech, in which he sulogized the abolitionists, Know Nothings, and temperance people, and berated the runnellers. His remarks were received with applause. At the conclusion of his speech the meeting adjourned.

Communications were received from the Uniter Engineer of the Fire Department, submitting complaints against fire companies. On motion of Alderman Howard, they were referred to the newly elected Fire Department Commissioners.

A communication was received from Comptroller Flagg, in relation to the paving of Grand and Fulton streets. The Board had taken measures to investigate the manner of executing the contract, and the Comptroller submits some documents in relation thereto. He says:—

the manner of executing the contract, and the Comptroller submits some documents in relation thereto. He says:—

At the close of the paying season last fall the Commissioner of Repairs and cupplies made a requisition for ten per ent reserved on the work then done in Grand street, it having been customary, as was stated, to pay over the ten per cent on other jobs of a similar character at the close of the working season. Payment, nowever, was rrussed, on the ground that the contract did not provide for such payments. There is, therefore, $9,000 or $10,000, reserved on accounts of Grand street, as a guarantee for the faithful performance of the work. The work, it appears, has not keen done according to agreement—said payement was to have been laid with granite blocks, and in the same manuer as that in the Bowery, between Bayard and Walker streets. No requiar contract was made. The matter was effected by a resolution of the Common Council giving parmission to Deghue & Cook to pave the streets in question in the same manner as that section of the Bowery alluded to.
The Comptroller says it was understood that the stones to be used were to be of uniform size, each not less than six inches on the surface and cight inches in depth, and laid on the very test of reand. The work exsented was re-ord to Ewen & Ludlam. City Surveyors, and a report made by these officers says the stones used in paying Grand street are from four to cight inches in length, and from two to soven inches in Ireadth on their surface, and five to cight inches in their depth, so that about one-third of the blocks are less than the size called for by the constract, yet the sur veyors pronounce the work equal to that in the Bowery, and say that the blocks are more uniform in their size and ap-

CONTRACTS FOR SIGHTING LAMPS.

The Committee on Lamps and Gas reported in favor of directing the Commissioner of Streets and Lamps to report to the Common Council for confirmation any contract he may award for lighting the public lamps, furnishing the oil therefor, &c., and that the contractor be not provided with the work until his contract is confirmed.

RESOLUTION.

Ry Alderman ELY:—

Resolved. That no contract for work which exceeds $250 in amount shall be made or entered fate by the head of any department until the same, with the estimates have been ashmitted to, and contract confirmed by, the Common Council. Adopted.

CONFIRMED.

A report in favor of confirming the nomination of A. D. Ewen as City Surveyor was adopted.

CAUTION NON-RESIDING IN THE CITY.

The committee of this Board reported in favor of per mitting the carmen of New York to reside out of the city. A long and stormy debate ensued, in which Aldermen Lord, Herrick, hit and Voorhis took part. Councilman Swax then called up his resolutions, offered at the last meeting, referring to Councilman Kerrigan, as folkews:—

Whereas, it has been announced is the public journals of this city that on the moreing of Thursday, the 28th day of April, ult. James E. Kerrigan, a member of this Board was arreated, charged, amongst other things, with personating a police officer, and also with violently assaulting Nicholas Carter, a keeper of an cyster saloon at No. 130 Walker street, it which alleged conduct James E. The Committee on the Croten Aquaduct presented a long report, which was ordered to be prinated, in relation to reconstructing the rates for Croten water. This reporterecommended an ordinance charging a uniform rate of two cents per kundred gallons used, by actual measurement, excepting where an average of less than 100 gallons are used per day, ten per cent to be charged upon the prime cost of the meter and fixings accessary for this measurement of rates, and all to be charged as regular water rates.

There was no further business of importance during the evening, and the Board adjourned till Friday evening.

OFFICER SEMILER AND THE COMMISSIONERS.

A communication was received from the Mayor's office, enclosing the reports of officer Semier particularizing certain violations of the amigrant laws. They were referred to the cennsel for investigation and sattlement.

Commissioner Kennedy, speaking of the immigration during the present year, observed that is his opinion the emigration would be large. He also stated that the censul at Antwerp, whose charge against the passengers of the ship Leopeld was published in the Herald of yesterday, was, no doubt, influenced by improper motives. It appears this Mr Gaul gives certificates of good character to ships that will give him a fee, and that his attack on the ship named was because they would not "come down" handsomely. This statement, therefore, should be received with caution.

We have only room to day for the report of the committee so far as the Lowell case is concerned. In the visit of the Nunnery Committee to Worcester, the conduct of Mr. Hiss is stated to have been irreproachable. In regard to the lowell visit they say:—

The attention of your committee has been carefully engaged in investigating the conduct of Mr. Hiss, in his visit to Lowell. We have given the matter a most thorough examination, and weighed well the facts bearing upon his conduct there. We found the inquiry attended with much difficultly, but we were enabled to discover the following facts:—On the 20th day of March last, Mr. Hiss started for Lowell with the same committees, arriving at the Washington House about 4 o'clock P. M.

While in the Boston depot he spoke to a couple of ladies, merely recognising them, neither of whom coult your committee ascertain to be the mythical Mrs. Patterson hereinafter referred to. Several most reliable witnesses testified that, while upon the passage to Lowell, Mr. Hiss was seen speaking to no one who was not a member of the Legislature, and that he was observed in conversation with no female, nor with any gentleman accompanying a lady.

Upon arriving at the cept in Lowell, he was very desirous of geing immediately to the hotel, although he had been invited to visit the factories first, and thereby any a long walk, which several present were surious to do—Dr. Burnham, of Lowell, having offered to convey the carpet bags and valies to the tavern Upon arriving at the Washington House, Mr. Hiss booked the names of a member of the semane of the Senate and House. He then wrote the name of do—Dr. Burnham, of Lowell, having offered to convey the carpet bags and valies to the known had from the House, were not put upon the register by Mr.

Mrs. Carpenter, knocked at the door of Mrs. Patterson's Troom.

The door was locked, but Mrs. Patterson, without making any inquiry, and without anything being eatd, opened the door, being in her night dress, and just ready to retire. She breakfasled the next day alone, at about nine o'clock, the breakfasled the next day alone, at half after the regular dioner time. She was seen in the hotel at no time when the committee were present, and finally departed at about three o'clock in the afternoon.

hotel at 90 time when the committee were present, and finally departed at about three o'clock in the afterneon.

The bed in No 12, occupied by Mrs. Patterson, was a great deal tumbled, according to the testimony of Mrs. Carpenter, who has been in the constant habit of taking care of beds in a botel for the past seven years. The bed was more disturbed than two persons would ordinarily tumble ore. It had the usual appearance of having been eccupied by two persons. Mrs. Carpenter awore distinctly that there were marks upon the sheet from which she judged that a man and woman had used the bed that night, and that she had no doubt of that being the case.

The medical testimony which was adduced showed that the stains upon the linen might be accounted for upon another theory, even if the bed had been occupied by a woman alone. But your committee had no doubt but that the bed in No. 12 was occupied by two persons that night. The bed o' Mr. Hiss, in No 13, was tumbled but a very little, and the only impression upon the pillows was where they met rogether in the middle.

The tucking in of the beddothes had not been disturbed, and the outside quilts and the sheets had not been removed from under the pillows. The washbowl, &c., in the chamber had been used. Mrs. Carpenter had orders from the clerk to change the linen in both rooms. In No. 12 size changed both sheets, in No. 13 but one, and that had no appearance of having been used. We do not thick that the bed of Mr. Hiss was tenanted duting the night, nor at all in the manner beds are usually occupied.

EJECTING A NEGRO FROM A CITY BAILROAD CAR-ADDEST OF THE CONDUCTOR AND DRIVER FOR AS-SAULT AND BATTERY.

ADERST OF THE CONDUCTOR AND DRIVER FOR ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

On Tuesday afternoon, a negro named Sidney McFarlend, appeared before Justice Brennan, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, and entered a complaint for assault and battery against James N. Congreive, conductor of car No. 24. en the Sixth Avenue Railroad, and William Loury, the driver, in having forcibly ejected him from the car solely on account of the color of his complexion.
Justice Brennan on, hearing the statement of the complainant, issued warrants for the arrest of the accused, and placed the same in the hands of officer Murray, for executics. The conductor and driver were soon arrested and conveyed before the magistrate, when it was decided to adjourn the examination in the case until the arx day at three o'clock. Accordingly yesterday the parties appeared in court cach side being represented by counsel.
The complainant was placed upon the stand, and testified that, wanting to go up town, he halled a Sixth avenue car in West Broadway, near White street, got on the same, but being told by the conductor that it was against the rules of the company to admit colored people in such cars only as bore the inscription, "Colored people allowed in this car," he was compelled to get off. That he then got upon the rear part of the next car that came along (No 24,) and rode upon it half a block, when the conductor. Congreive, came up and told him that he could not ride in that car. The complianant, however, thought that he had a right to ride in all cars, and, therefore, refused to get off. The conductor, has says, then caught blod of him by the necktoth and endeavored to choke him off, but the complainant held on tight to the railing and would not be ejected. The conductor then rang the bell for the assistance of the driver, who, along with the aid of, the conductor, successied in principal side of the complainant hald on the colored car and thought to long to wait for

DUPED BY A PORTUNE TELLER.

Yesterday, a woman named Catharine Gilmore, was brought before Justice Bogart, at the Lower Police Court, by officer McClusky, charged with larceny, on the complaint of Hugh Haggerty, of 23 Pell street, in whose employ she was engaged as a demettle. The substance of the complaint made against the girl is, that some days ago Maggerty missed $52 m gold, and suspecting Catharine to be the thief, bethought of a plan to ascertain the truth of his surmises, and accordingly engaged a forture teller, who resided in the neighborhood, to come to his house and practice her tricks upon the domestic. The crares of the forture teller had such an effect upon the proof girl, that the following day she packed up her clothes and made a hasty departure from her employer's house. Haggerty, supposing that the girl was really guilty, applied for a warrant for her apprehension, which being granted, the woman was taken into custody; but there being no proof whatever against her, Justice Bogart dismissed the complaint, and discharged the girl from custody. Whether the complainant was induced to be the forture teller heavily or not does not appear.

MAY 7 -Mr. E. H. Hucson appeared, with his MAY 7.—Mr. E. H. Hut son appeare, with his counsel, for an examination on the charge preferred against him, with E. J. Carroll, for conspiring to defrand Mr. Forrester of upwards of $8,000, by false pretences. Counsel for Mr. H. stated his readiness to proceed with a cross-examination of the complainant, or ary other witnesses to be produced. Mr. Hudson sa'd he had demanded an examination on the moment of his arrest, and had been constantly applying for the opportunity to sift the matter by cross-examination of the prosecutor, and offering the evidence of any, number of witnesses as rebutting testimony. It was urged, on the part of the complainant, that he was not in attendance in consequence of his supposing that the case could not be proceeded with, as his counsel was absent in Cincinnsti. Counsel contended that it was the duty of the complainant to attend, and stated he was prepared to prove that he (the prosecutor) had been notified that the case was set cown for today. The counsel denounced the affidiavit as false, and the wastrant as altogether ineffectual to fix any crime on Mr. Hudson, who was surrounded by his friends, and who would show that the charge was wholly without foundation. The Judge raid that he was satisfied that Mr. Forrester had had notice of the time appointed for the examination, and, to say the least of it, it was extraordinary that he was not in attendance. In consequence the plaintiff and his family lost their passage money, and have been detained in this city ever since. The wife of the plaintiff immediately called upon his Honor Mayor Wood, and stated her case to him; whereupon he placed the matter in the hands of officer Bowyer, of the Chit's office, with directions to get back the property for the plaintiff.
